Introduction

The updated PSHE Association Programme of Study for PSHE education (2020) supports schools to provide a comprehensive programme that combines the new statutory content for Relationships Education, Relationships and Sex Education (RSE), and Health Education.

In this document you will find the 1decision links to the PSHE Association's Programme of Study based on their three core themes:

Core theme 1: Health and Wellbeing - 1decision links can be found on the following pages - KS1 Pages 5-14/KS2 Pages 25-37

Core theme 2: Relationships - 1decision links can be found on the following pages - KS1 Pages 14-20/KS2 Pages 38-46

Core theme 3: Living in the Wider World - 1decision links can be found on the following pages - KS1 Pages 21-24/KS2 Pages 46-54

You can view all of the 1decision topics on Pages 55-56

The 1decision resources have been built around the above three core themes, and the 10 principles of effective PSHE education, which are as follows:

1. Start where children and young people are: find out what they already know, understand, are able to do, and are able to say. For maximum impact, involve them in the planning of your PSHE education programme.
2. Plan a 'spiral programme' which introduces new and more challenging learning, while building on what has gone before, which reflects and meets the personal developmental needs of the children and young people.
3. Take a positive approach which does not attempt to induce shock or guilt but focuses on what children and young people can do to keep themselves and others healthy and safe and to lead happy and fulfilling lives.
4. Offer a wide variety of teaching and learning styles within PSHE education, with an emphasis on interactive learning and the teacher as facilitator.
5. Provide information which is realistic and relevant and which reinforces positive social norms.
6. Encourage young people to reflect on their learning and the progress they have made, and to transfer what they have learned to say and to do from one school subject to another, and from school to their lives in the wider community.
7. Recognise that the PSHE education programme is just one part of what a school can do to help a child to develop the knowledge, skills, attitudes and understanding they need to fulfil their potential. Link the PSHE education programme to other whole school approaches, to pastoral support, and provide a setting where the responsible choice becomes the easy choice. Encourage staff, families and the wider community to get involved.
8. Embed PSHE education within other efforts to ensure children and young people have positive relationships with adults, feel valued and where those who are most vulnerable are identified and supported.
9. Provide opportunities for children and young people to make real decisions about their lives, to take part in activities which simulate adult choices and where they can demonstrate their ability to take responsibility for their decisions.
10. Provide a safe and supportive learning environment where children and young people can develop the confidence to ask questions, challenge the information they are offered, draw on their own experience, express their views and opinions and put what they have learned into practice in their own lives.

Using 1decision within the Current PSHE Programme of Study

In line with the most current programme of study, 1decision was reassuringly one of the first primary programmes to receive the PSHE Association kitemark. The current programme is recommended for children aged 5-11 (mainstream) and is also suitable for many students with SEN needs.

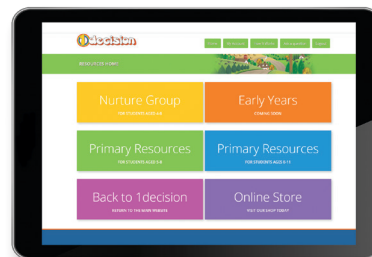

Although the programme is broken in to age ranges, it is recommended that schools choose where the resources fit best in terms of student maturity, current knowledge, and geographical location.

The PSHE framework is not definitive and schools should adapt and enrich it as they feel appropriate, including relocating learning in different key stages in accordance with pupils' readiness or needs. PSHE education addresses pupils' previous experiences and prepares them for the future.

Throughout the following pages, you will find the most recent programme of study for PSHE (released by the PSHE Association). Within each section, we have identified the areas covered within the 1decision series.

Each module within the 1decision series builds on our Early Years programme and begins with a baseline assessment of the pupils' current knowledge, which allows teachers to address any gaps in their learning. Our 8-11 programme has clear progressive routes from our 5-8 programme, and the children's gained knowledge is highlighted throughout the assessment process. For more information please review our Progression Routes document.

Our assessment has been built in line with the PSHE Association's recommendation for assessment (please see page 4).

PSHE Association's Recommendation for Assessment

“There are a number of reasons why it is important that learning in PSHE education is assessed. It is important for pupils to have opportunities to reflect on their learning, assessment also increases pupils’ motivation and improves learning as their raised awareness of their development illustrates the value of their learning. It is important for teachers to feel confident that learning has taken place, to be able to demonstrate progress, and to identify future learning needs. It also allows the leadership team, parents, governors and school inspectors to see the impact that PSHE education is having for pupils and for whole school outcomes, such as Ofsted judgements on personal development, behaviour and welfare, safeguarding, spiritual, moral, social and cultural (SMSC) development and the promotion of fundamental British values. Without assessing your PSHE education, all you can do is describe your provision; you cannot show its impact.

The essential skills and attributes identified in the programme of study are arguably the hardest aspect of learning to assess. It is difficult for teachers to accurately assess a pupil’s self-confidence or sense of their own identity and values. However, pupils themselves will be able to judge, for instance, whether they feel more confident, or have a firmer sense of their own beliefs and opinions than they did before a particular series of lessons. Such personal reflection in PSHE education lessons is essential, so ensuring pupils have time and space within the lessons to reflect on this, either privately or through discussion, is a vital part of the assessment process. Assessing learning in PSHE education must therefore use a combination of teacher assessment and pupil self- and peer assessment.

It would be inappropriate for assessment in PSHE education to be about levels or grades, passing or failing. The model of assessment that is most meaningful in PSHE education is ipsative assessment. Ipsative assessment compares where a pupil is at the end of a lesson or series of lessons against where they were before the lesson(s), in a similar way to an athlete measuring today’s performance against their own previous performance. So the benchmark against which progress is measured is the pupil’s own starting point, not the performance of others or the requirements of an exam syllabus”.<sup>12</sup>

1. Baseline assessment

Carry out a baseline assessment before starting a new ‘piece of learning’ (which might be a single lesson or series of lessons constituting a ‘module’ or ‘topic’).

2. Assessment for Learning (AfL)

Build AfL into the lesson(s) to gauge understanding, adapt teaching, promote and maximise learning. Strategies might include building on the baseline assessment, structured questioning, mini-plenaries between activities, feedback and feed forwards.

3. Assessment of Learning (AoL)

At the end of the ‘piece of learning’, measure progress from the starting point (AoL). Use this to evidence progress and inform future teaching.

1 Pupils are often aware that sexual intercourse does not always result in a baby and they may already be aware of or have heard about some common methods of contraception (e.g. condoms, the contraceptive pill or avoiding sexual intercourse). A basic understanding of contraception can be taught at primary level. This may include basic information about common forms of contraception (for example, condoms and the contraceptive pill) and how these can prevent a baby being made. Schools will need to decide whether this is appropriate for their community and cohorts and consider how to approach this as part of Sex Education.

2 Common injuries might include bruises, scalds, burns, bleeds (cuts or nose bleeds). Schools might also choose to teach about how to manage asthma attacks, allergic reactions, a person who is choking or unresponsive. For head injuries, pupils should be taught to seek adult help immediately but not to attempt to move the person.

3 Teaching about FGM could be included in units on health, keeping safe, safe relationships, privacy, body parts (including external genitalia).
